SPEAKER OUTLINE

KEY SPEAKER – TERRY WILLIAMS

2 Dangerous Things A Year: 8 tools to take charge of change DEVELOP & ENGAGE YOUR PEOPLE TO IMPROVE YOUR RESULTS.

Should you be worried that you or your team are not prepared for change? Change is inevitable and the rate of change is accelerating. You will learn why most people are unprepared for change. You will learn tools to get past those obstacles, build momentum & muscle through when it's tough. Engaging & entertaining, this distinctive session starts with my own story of doing 2 dangerous things a year. It flows interactively into a series of practical takeaway tools for anyone to better handle change at work & in life.

KEY SPEAKER – DANNY GELB Employment Law Advocacy

Danny Gelb is a well educated, commercially minded person who has the ability to appreciate disputes from both sides. He established his consultancy, Land & Building Solutions Limited over 15 years ago. Originally, he qualified as an engineer and then completed various law papers as part of his two postgraduate diplomas from Massey University. Danny brings to the employment dispute arena a focus on pragmatic resolution as opposed to an all out (and quite often unnecessary) fight through the New Zealand employment law legal system.

LUKE SYKES BVT Engineering

BVT is the interiors engineering firm specialising in seismic design and compliance. Luke will give us a technical presentation on the importance of seismic compliance, why we do what we do and the evolution of what we do, particularly focusing on walls – plus new product and service offerings focusing on the technological advancements BVT have made

WARWICK QUINN DCE Employer Journeys, NZ Institute of Skills and Technology

Te Pukenga (NZIST) is the organisation delivering the biggest change to New Zealand construction vocational training that we have seen in 20 years. Reimagining the vocational education and training system is a huge undertaking, and it is vital that employers, business and industry have a significant voice in the sector's transformation – Warwick will be joining us to update on progress and what employers need to know.

VICTORIA MCARTHUR Mates in Construction

The MATES programme builds and strengthens communities in the workplace and across the industry – helping our people to be supportive and provide an environment that encourages positive wellbeing. MATES engage with workers through on-site training and providing those identified as at risk with case management support that connects them to suitable professional support.
